ABOUT STOCK CUSTOM HOMES

BUILDING EXCELLENCE IN AMERICA'S MOST EXCLUSIVE DESTINATIONS

Since its founding in 2014, Stock Custom Homes has become the premier builder that defines luxury, making its mark in fine communities and prestigious private clubs.

From Yellowstone Club to 3 Creek Ranch in Jackson Hole, Wyoming, and now Territory 1889 in Montana, these partnerships represent Stock's commitment to creating exceptional homes in communities where legacy, natural beauty, and world-class amenities converge.

Homes masterfully crafted by Stock Custom Homes are created in collaboration with a team of highly renowned architects, interior designers, and construction professionals, all committed to the same level of expert quality.

A LEGACY BUILT ON WESTERN VALUES

Co-founded by K.C. Stock and his son Brian Stock, Stock Development is rooted in generations of Western heritage—a family legacy deeply connected to Montana and Wyoming, where ranching, craftsmanship, and community stewardship have shaped their approach for decades.

This authentic understanding of the American West informs every home we build. Each residence reflects not only architectural excellence but a genuine appreciation for the land and the lifestyle it offers.

Today, Brian Stock continues the legacy begun by his late father, K.C. Stock, as CEO of Stock Development. Alongside Matt Sellick, President of Homebuilding, and Vice President Shane McGrath—whose Montana roots and extensive experience across the Mountain West bring invaluable regional perspective—he leads a venerable custom home team building in the West's most distinguished private club communities.

BUILDING WITH MONTANA CRAFTSMEN

We believe the best homes are built in partnership with those who truly understand the land. Stock Custom Homes selects the best team of professionals for each home we build. We work with Montana's most respected architects and interior designers who share our commitment to quality and excellence.

ARCHITECTS

Locati Architects | Founded in 1989 by Jerry Locati in Bozeman, Locati Architects has spent decades designing high-end residential, commercial, and resort architecture throughout the Western United States. With the intention that every building should enhance the personal experience of the landscape, Locati designs dream homes that bring both detail and definition to the natural world—incorporating innovative products with classic Western style.

Payne Cole | Led by partner and licensed architect Nic Cole and co-founder Eric Payne—two of the most trusted names in Western Montana architecture and building—Payne Cole offers luxury design services, completely turn-key with interior design, civil and structural engineering, and permitting, throughout the American West from its offices in Whitefish, Missoula and Park City.

Reid Smith Architects | Reid Smith Architects focuses on creating a sense of space through original and unique design in the Mountain West. The Bozeman-based firm combines local and natural materials that respect the site while celebrating the built environment and innovation. Whether designing a contemporary cabin on the Yellowstone River, a western ski retreat, or a modern mountain residence, Reid Smith Architects captures the spirit of the site.

INTERIOR DESIGNERS

Soco Interiors | With over 20 years of creating beautiful spaces, Soco Interiors has worked with Stock Custom Homes on award-winning interiors throughout the American West, including contemporary lodge-style homes in Jackson Hole and mountain retreats in Montana.

Ohara Davies-Gaetano Interiors | Established in Los Angeles in 2009, Ohara Davies-Gaetano provides comprehensive residential design services for clients across the globe, with studios in LA, NY, and satellite offices in Palm Beach and Montana. Her Montana projects include a 9,000-square-foot vacation home in Montana's Flathead Lake.

Alder & Tweed | Alder & Tweed is a luxe yet approachable design firm specializing in premier residences, communities, and hospitality projects, with offices in Big Sky, Bozeman, and Yellowstone Club in Montana, plus Park City, UT, and New York.

LEADING WITH EXCELLENCE

MATT SELICK PRESIDENT STOCK CUSTOM HOMES

Matt is President of Stock Custom Homes as well as President of Homebuilding for Stock Development, and oversees all the company's homebuilding divisions. He has been with the company for over 20 years, and leads STOCK's custom home development team throughout Montana, Wyoming and Florida. Matt earned his degree in Business Management and Administration from Florida State University, and has been honored for his leadership and excellence by regional builder associations.

LEADING WITH EXCELLENCE

SHANE MCGRATH VICE PRESIDENT STOCK CUSTOM HOMES

Shane brings extensive experience in custom homebuilding and real estate across luxury residences and community developments throughout the Mountain West. Beginning his career immediately after college, he has overseen land entitlements, subdivision development, and numerous luxury custom homes. Prior to joining Stock Custom Homes, Shane refined his craft working alongside the region's top builders specializing in one-of-a-kind custom home residences. Shane holds a Bachelor of Science in Economics from Montana State University, with a focus on entrepreneurship and small business.

WHERE ROOTS RUN DEEP

The Stock family's commitment to Montana extends beyond building homes—it's about building community. In Bozeman, the Stock family made a meaningful contribution that honored their Montana heritage while supporting the next generation. In 2023, their gift enabled the purchase of a home arena for Montana State University's nationally recognized men's and women's rodeo teams.

The Stock Family MSU Rodeo Facility stands as a symbol of the Stock family's commitment to Montana's communities, traditions, and future.
